

HEART and HOME PROBLEMS

MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl 18 and am going to try lemon juice to remove freckles.

(1) How often shall I use it? Do you think it will injure my face in any way?

(2) Will I have to use it very long before I see an improvement?

(3) Could you suggest a remedy that would remove pimples?

(4) Does steam bring pimples out on the face? I get them on my chin and forehead.

BROWN EYES.

(1 and 2) Lemon juice is the safest thing I know of for freckles and for whitening the skin. It is apt to irritate a tender skin, however, in which case it should be diluted. It will not always rid one of deep-seated freckles. One must take off the skin to do that, and the freckles always return. Put the lemon juice on at night after washing the face with warm water and soap and rinsing in clear water. Leave lemon on all night. The morning wash off and massage the face gently with cold cream. Then wipe off cold cream and lightly dust the skin with a good powder. Always wear a wide-brimmed hat when you go out. A green veil also keeps out the sun. It may be a month before you see much improvement.

(3) The above will help to remove pimples if you will keep your stomach in good order and your bowels open. Do not eat candies, rich cakes, gravies and greasy foods. Drink a lot of pure water and milk, and eat fresh fruits and vegetables.

(4) I do not believe in steaming the face, my dear. It opens the pores and coarsens the skin. It is a process with which nature does not agree.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: What should a girl tell a boy if she loves him, and he asks to come to see her, and she can't keep company?

If you can keep company and love a boy, and he asks to come to see you, but your parents will not allow him to come; what must you tell him so as not to have him dislike you?

When a girl is 17 years old, do you not think it is right for her to keep company with her best friends occasionally?

If the girl and boy have been friends for several years, should the girl ask the boy to come to see her; or the boy ask the girl if he might?

Y. N.

My dear, I never have felt that it was quite right for a girl to "keep company" with any boy. Keeping company means that they are not engaged, but the boy is sort of looking around and trying out girls he knows. He does not have any feeling of responsibility to the girl and can throw her down any time he feels like it, since they are not engaged. He has the right to go around with other girls as much as he likes. He is perfectly free, while the girl feels that she is bound in an understanding that he wishes to some day marry her, and perhaps she gives up all her other boy friends for one who isn't serious at all.

Be good friends with the boys, ask your parents to let them visit you as friends, talk over your boy friends when you are a year or two older and feel sure that you love and are loved by the right one, your parents will be just as happy over it as you are.

Just tell your boy friend that you are not going to keep "steady company" with any boy until you meet the man who asks you to marry him, and that will be when you are a little older and know your own mind a little better.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am 18 years old and have a great desire to travel. Should I leave home, as my parents will not consent to let me travel? I have a great longing for the west. Would it be a wise plan to go out there? I have no relatives out there. Do you think I could find a home among strangers? Please give me your advice.

DARK LOCKS.

You have the wanderlust, my dear. I am afraid you would find life a great deal harder than you know anything about, if you would leave home and go among strangers in a strange land. Better stick to the safe path, marry a good man and be a good wife and mother. Then, if you travel, you will be older, know more about people and get along better.

HIDES PART OF CASH IN MOUTH

John Reber, by Trying to Fix Charges on Police, Draws a Fine.

John Reber almost attains to the magical powers of a Thurston when he becomes disorderly. He proved that he could take money, mixed as to paper and silver in the sum of $16 from his mouth.

Reber was arrested late Saturday by Officer Kell charged with disorderly conduct. He was brought to the police station to sober up from the effects of a bad "stew." His money and other valuables, according to custom, were demanded at the office of Desk Sergeant Kinsley before being sent to a cell.

The police intended to liberate him, but when he had sobered up and was given his belongings he alleged his funds were $16 short. He asserted he had $30 when arrested but Officer Kell could find but $14 in his discharge envelope. Reber was seen to hold his hand to his mouth while he protested a part of his money had been withheld by the police. He also distorted his features so noticeably that officers demanded that he open his mouth. When he did so $16 in silver and currency was found.

Today Police Magistrate C. J. Smith fined Reber $5 and costs for disorderly conduct. "Count your money Reber, we've had enough trouble about your tangible assets around here," said the police magistrate to the accused as he left the police court.

RAISE FUND FOR AUTO AMBULANCE

Modern Woodmen Subscribing $2,600 for Vehicle for Use at the Sanatorium.

J. H. Smith of Camp No. 11,861, Modern Woodmen of America, of New York, N. Y., whose son, Hubert, a consumptive, died at the Modern Woodmen tuberculosis sanatorium at Colorado Springs, has petitioned through F. O. Van Galder, editor of the Modern Woodman, to the executive council of the order that an auto ambulance be bought for use between Colorado Springs and the sanatorium, with the result that a fund to buy one has been started. The price of an ambulance is $2,600.

The sanatorium is 12 miles from Colorado Springs. Patients going there must ride with a mail carrier or in a grocery wagon, or hire an auto. Already $155 has been contributed for the purchase of the ambulance which if secured will be used to give free transportation to all patients from the city to the sanatorium. Independence camp No. 26 of this city was the first to donate to the fund, giving $15. The cook book department maintained by the official organ gave $100. Mr. Van Galder is advocating the cause in this month's issue of the Modern Woodman.

SWAT THE FLY!

Mothers with small babies know how much washing there is to be done.

Mrs. Brightley Adds Her Praise for Fels-Naptha

Mrs. Brightley—"Just a minute, Anty Drudge, I want to run up and look at baby, then I'll come and sit down for a while and talk to you. I must tell you how quickly and easily I do my work since I've been using Fels-Naptha Soap."

Anty Drudge—"I saw a big wash out drying as I came in and thought you'd finished early. Fels-Naptha Soap's the thing to use."

If you do it the old way, with hot water and hard rubbing, the dainty little dresses and soft flannels are soon going to be ruined.

Use Fels-Naptha Soap—cool or lukewarm water, and do not boil. Put your soiled things to soak for a while; Fels-Naptha Soap will go to work on the dirt, and when you are ready to give the clothes a rub or two with your hands, the dirt will just fall right out. The "Fels-Naptha Way" takes less time, less work and less strength.

Dissolves grease, removes stains, cleans everything cleanable.

Follow the directions on the Red and Green Wrapper.

Better buy Fels-Naptha by the carton or box.
